

20 - 24 MARCH NEWSLETTER

Above: Jordan and Lizzy made a sign, next time you pass Mandala see if you can spot it! We want the community to recognize the importance of science and make it known that it is a priority at Mandala!

Below: on Wednesday, we spent the day in Buffalo. Charlotte's Web at the Theatre of Youth, followed by a delicious lunch at the West Side Bazaar!

Congratulations Charlie!

He won the most votes on his house design. All of the students that participated did a fantastic job!

The students have presented research projects on a topic of their choice. The presentations and visuals were fantastic! Some of the topics included the southwest U.S., mayflies, Chernobyl, minotaurs, Hindu gods, ancient Egypt, and Venus. All of the students did a wonderful job!

Some things we learned this week are:

how to make candles

themes of Mozart's "The Magic Flute"

how to give a proper presentation (thanks Leo!)

the Quadratic formula

how to multiply binomials

how to sew on a machine

Open Houses

Please continue to spread the word about the open houses we will be holding, Tuesday (28th) and Thursday (30th), next week from 4 - 6 P.M.
