

Mandala School Newsletter

Volume XI Issue XI

30 November 2018

Younger students have been learning short vowel sounds while reading, writing in their journals, and mastering with activities. Coral reads a Froggy book and searches for words with a short u sound. She & Jackson played a word sort game to review all 5 short vowel sounds.

Cantilevered bridge in math

Hi! I'm Jackson, I'm 6 years old and this is my second year at Mandala. My family is mom, dad, me, and step dad. I have two pets, Lucy and Penny. My role model is my neighbor. If I had one wish it would be for my aunt to live in Tonawanda. If I could be anything I would be the richest man alive. When I grow up I want to be a poopier scooper. Now for some of my favorites: favorite food is pizza, favorite movie is Incredibles 2, favorite country is New York. My favorite toy is my infinity gauntlet. My favorite thing to do is play and my favorite subject is recess. My favorite animal is a dog and my favorite dinosaur is the triceratops!

Student of the Week: Jackson

Finn set the bar high with his book report presentation on Wednesday! A 3D, handmade map included rivers, hills, forests, and houses- The setting of his book, Poppy and Poppy and Rye

Fire building demo by Dr. John as part of the Lewis & Clark expedition unit.

Writing is more fun together! We would like to see more production from students in terms of writing, both fiction and nonfiction. Students had a writer's workshop on Thursday afternoon. Kate & Coral wrote and read a story together. Dr. John scribed a story for Nolan, and Luci helped Sia get her thoughts down.

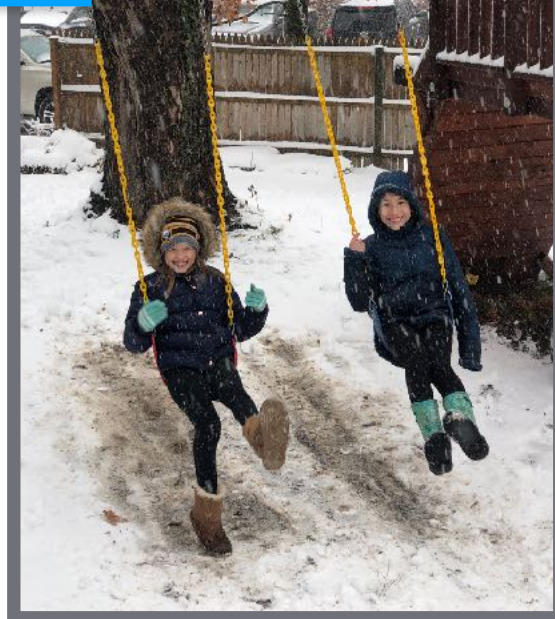

Youngest students made hats for Saint Nicholas Day in art class

WE

Luci, Kate, Keltrian, and Dr. John fulfilled one of Luci's dreams to make a pi pie last week for our harvest lunch. Their math group has begun parts of a circle and area of circles.

Weekend work:

1. Fill out food journals for Friday night - Monday Morning. Everything you eat & drink needs to be recorded! 🍏🍌🍿🥜🥑🍓
If you forgot your journal please write on paper and bring it to school
2. Fill out picture day order form and return by Tuesday.