

Mandala School Newsletter

~New Year Edition~

Volume XI
Issue XIV

4 January 2019

SAVE THE DATE
MANDALA SCHOOL
SUMMER CAMP
Week 1: July 8th - 12th
Week 2: July 15th - 19th
More information coming soon
E-mail Kelsey to reserve your spot!

I went to Build A Bear and I build a unicorn and I picked out clothes for my unicorn and I went with my Grandma and Grandpa. I was excited for my first Build A Bear.

By Sia

1/2/2019

Finn Saved the day in Spanish Class! A Jumping Spider (araña) was on the ceiling, scaring EVERYONE! Finn to the rescue! He caught the spider and safely removed it from the classroom. Gracias, Finn!

Younger Students Made History at Mandala This Week

They built and lit the first outdoor fire at school! They learned how to gather and layer the materials and then built it all by themselves! Because the wood was very wet it didn't ignite as much as they hoped, but it was still a great experience!

Writer's Workshop
Students got right back to work after break creating "backwards" stories, creative stories, and some poetry. The new year has brought new creativity!

The Drink in the Store: Part 1

Once upon a time there was a kid named Jack with his mom Lucy and they walk from their house to a store. They brought a bottle of water into the store. There were cameras in each and every corner. In the security room they saw them drink the water. Tom, the security person, went outside of the security room to the mom. "Miss" said Tom, the security person. "Yes" said the mom.

"We don't let drinks into the store" said Tom the security person.

"Oh, ok we will leave to drink the water, PS you should really put a sign on the door sir!" said the mom. When they finished the water

They went back inside the store. It was September so they bought costumes. The kid was Harry Potter. The mom was professor McGonagall. And they bought the dad a costume, he was Professor Snape. All of them were from Harry potter.

To be continued...

The Drink in the Store: Part 2

It was halloween night. When they got dressed the Harry Potter outfit had a tear in it. The mom went in their basement to find their sewing machine. The dad got home and looked for it. "WE FOUND IT, WE FOUND IT!" said the mom and dad together.

Thump thump thump knock knock knock. "Who is at the door, Jack?" said Lucy.

"A kid" said Jack.

"Go get the candy!" said Lucy.

"Ok mom" said Jack.

"Happy Halloween" said Jack.

The mom came up stairs. "Lucy!" said the mom's friend.

"Macy!" said Lucy, "come inside."

"Ok" said Macy. The mom sewed the outfit, and they went Trick or treating.

The Adventure

I am known as an adventurer, an explorer, and someone who keeps to himself. But that's not exactly true, I am a rich man named Mariano Vincheso, born in 1602, 34 years old, living in a villa in an Italian village on the Mediterranean. I earn my living from my adventures at sea.

You see, I am an explorer. I've found large amounts of treasure from abandoned and uninhabited jungle islands that I map out on papers and place in my study for my next adventure. I have been using this strategy for about two years without a flaw.

But my last adventure did not go just as I'd like it to. I set out for sail gathering my maps and information, put on my signature sailing cap and sailed off. I had been sailing for five hours and thirty minutes according to my pocket watch when I saw land.

By Martin

Devin and Marty finding the area of shorter sides are equivalent to the area of the square off the hypotenuse.

COOKIES!

Cookies are good all different flavors! Chocolate chip cookies are my favorite! Cookies are very good you can make it at home! "Hey mom, can we make cookies?"

"Oh sure Sam."

Oh hi my name is Sam. My mom's name is Georgia we love baking and cooking for family! Don't under estimate the goodness of cookies! You don't have to like cookies! So we are making cookies for family and neighbors. I love cookies, cookies, cookies!

The End

By Kate

Sasquatch story time at lunch

Family Fun

By Coral

Once upon a time there was a BIG family and there was a mom, a dad, two sisters, one brother, and one baby boy. The mom was named Kristy, the dad's name was Keltrean, one sister was named Bella, the other sister's name was Zella, the brother's name was Jeric, and the baby boy's name was Casper.

The big family went to a mall. The children wanted toys so the family went to a toy store. They went home 'cause the baby was cranky. Kristy said, "Casper, you need to go to bed."

Bella and Zella had so much fun playing with their new toys! What a big family!

The End