

Jeannet de Jong
Art Teacher
jdjawk@gmail.com

Jeannet was born in The Hague, the Netherlands, where she received all her education, including Textiles and Fine Arts.

After coming to the United States, she has lived in several states, adding to her learning about cultures and arts that have enriched her life.

The many years of working in a children's museum, have allowed her to create murals, design and sew costumes, delve into foreign ancient cultures as well as new formed ones.

Teaching art at Mandala School is a beautiful way of learning to visually express what we, students, as well as teacher, want others to see.
