

Weekly Newsletter

Volume XI

May 17, 2019

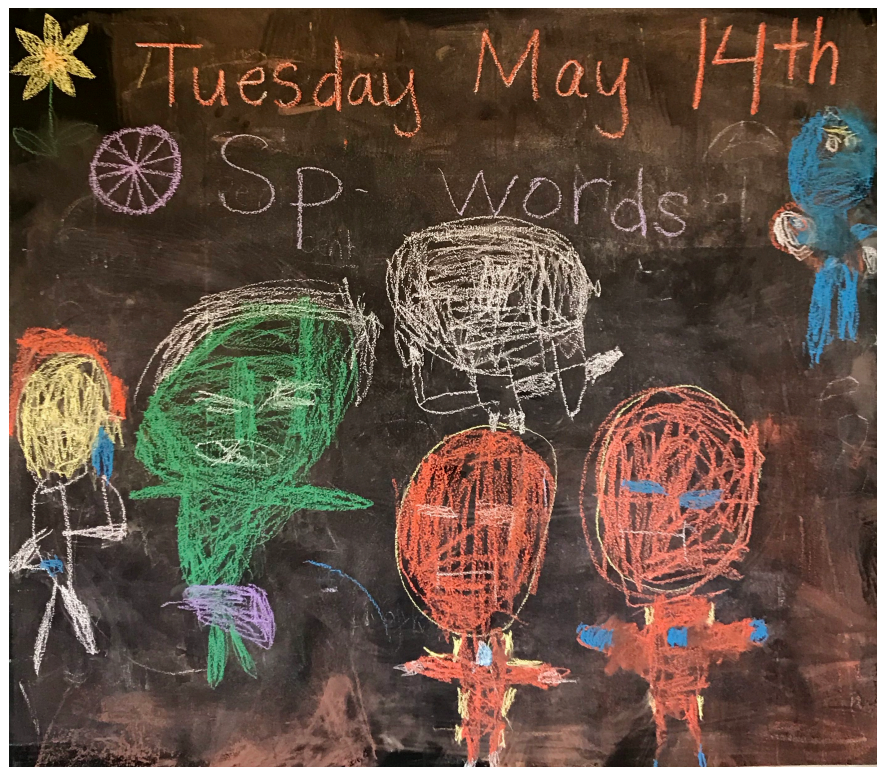

Issue XXVII

On Thursday, we went to Miss Kelsey's house to plant fifty trees that were donated to the school by the Erie County Soil and Water Conservation.

Did you know that one person creates 43,600 pounds of CO<sub>2</sub> in a year? One tree absorbs only 48 pounds from the atmosphere. This means that in order to offset one person's carbon emissions they would need to plant over 908 trees! Plant your own trees this spring! - Martin

Kyle's drawings of the Avengers:

The youngest art group turned one-time-use plastic forks into paint brushes to give them another purpose, all while creating beautiful dandelion paintings!

Remember all those bottle caps we've collected? The oldest art group are in the process of making a design for a new gate going up out back. The gate will feature a beautiful bottle cap Mandala. Stay tuned for the final product!

Student of the Week: Jackson G.

Jackson is 7 years old and this is his first year at Mandala. He lives with his mom, dad, and sister, Karly. Jackson has a dog, a snake, fish, and a snail named Joe. His role model is the FBI. If he had one wish it would be for real life Pokémon. If Jackson had a super power it would be shape shifting. Jackson's favorite video game is Minecraft. His favorite class is playtime.

His

favorite book is Pokémon Guide. Toast is Jackson's favorite food.

Kyle helping Ama with her writing. Together they are learning words that rhyme.

