Student of the week: Charlotte

Climate Strike at Mandala

Charlotte is nine years old and has a mom, dad, dog and two cats. In the future she wants to be an actress. The coolest place she has ever been is California. She speaks French, Spanish and English. Her zodiac sign is Cancer. Being silent is her secret talent. She lives in Cheektowaga. At Mandala she likes to play. Tall people are her worst fear. In her spare time she likes to hangout with her mom. If she could live anywhere it would be California. If she could be born in any year, it would be 2020. She would not change anything about her past. She plays guitar.

Here are a few of her favorites:

Animal: Cat
Song: My mom's lullaby
Book: Pete The Cat
Sport: Baseball
Movie/TV show: Glitter Forest
Color: Pink
Subject: Science
Food: Pizza
Drink: Chocolate Milk

Last Friday, September 20th, more than 40 people gathered at The Mandala School to strike against climate change. We participated with millions of people around the world to show how serious global warming is!
