

Mandala School Newsletter

Volume XIV Issue XIII

November 10, 2022

Announcements:

- The final running club will be Wednesday, November 16th, rain, shine, or snow! Be prepared!
- After school yoga classes will be offered shortly after Running club ends.
- We spend time outside each day. Please send in weather appropriate clothing! Snow gear can be stored at school.
- On Tuesday, November 22nd, we will work together to prepare a harvest meal for lunch. We have asked families to help provide some of the ingredients, we will send out the sign up sheet next week!
- Thanksgiving break will be November 23rd - 25th. Classes resume Monday, November 28th.

Katie's invention project on the camera

Invention projects: Everybody chose an invention and we have to research that thing and make a poster. I am studying the camera. It had a lot of models that were very different. The first one was the camera obscura which was a box with a hole in it and the hole would make a picture upside down. By: Katie

This week, Morena (Ama & Inti's mom) came in to help us learn Spanish. We worked on the vowels and alphabet. We practiced asking how people feel and answering. Buen is good, malo is bad or sad, and cansado is tired. By: Kyle left: Ama reviews her word problems with the class. Each student in Ms. Kelsey's math class had to write their own word problems for each operation. Once everyone finished solving each others' problems, the students got to teach everyone the steps to solve their problems.

Student of the Week: Mira

If Mira could travel anywhere, Tokyo, Japan would be her dream destination. She is intrigued by the mixture of technology and nature. If Mira could open any restaurant, she would want to open an ice cream shop that sells ice cream balls.

She likes Mandala because she enjoys the freedom to move around, be free, and go to parks for hikes. If she had 1 million dollars, she would go to Japan, open up an ice cream shop, and would put money towards preventing deforestation (specifically helping build more concrete houses to use less wood). Her greatest dream is to walk barefoot in the Sequoia National Park only with animals. And to answer your question, she has super human feet and they never hurt while walking barefoot in the woods. If she could live inside of a tree or a giant pumpkin, she would want to live with the birds and animals in a tree. She would definitely want a dragon to live with her so she could fly all around, but it has to be a nice dragon. She would also want a red panda. Overall, she loves nature and is a great Mandalian.

Written by the ~ Middle Kids ~

Georgie's tree

Charlotte holds her art project that she's working on using modeling clay.