Volume XVI Issue XXIV

March 29, 2024

In art this week our group continued to make puppets for the lunar eclipse. It was our last week working on this project so we were pretty rushed but the puppets came out looking amazing. We practiced the scripts to our puppet shows and made our little characters move their arms. Everyone's projects are coming together really nicely, and mine turned out really well. By Sarah

In writing class, we have been working on writing letters to people we miss or live very far away. We are also working on interviewing older women in our lives for Women's History Month. We did this by recording the interview, taking notes, and then writing the real project. I interviewed my Mom for this project, this project was very fun!

Girls Club

By: Vienna

In girls club we talk about things you might not feel comfortable talking about at home. In the girls club we write down questions on a piece of paper and it's anonymous questions so nobody knows who it's from but it gets answered by the teacher, Ms. Leah. These questions might be things you wouldn't want to ask your parents because you might feel uncomfortable.

In this club whatever we talk about in that room doesn't leave the room, so nobody knows your business. Last week we made cookies

Student of the week: Sophie!

Sophie is an eight-year-old Mandala student, she loves to run and play outside with her friends! Music is one of her favorite classes, but she loves them all. Sophie likes a song called Better Days. She has a sister named Aliyah who she finds fun and smart. Sophie has a dog named Lyla, and two cats named Pistachio and Dewey. It's fun to visit them downstairs with her grandparents. One of Sophie's favorite colors is turquoise. She is very energetic and always shows her best smile. Sophie has been to a lot of places like Florida, Seattle, and Washington D.C. She thinks it's fun to explore new places. Sophie is a great addition to our Mandala family!

interviewed by Julia & Brooklyn

Today we braved the cold and explored Sinking Ponds. We learned about succession. Miss Leah's group looked at cattails. Kody and Ama picked up trash. We dug in the dirt, saw Canadian Geese, and ate lunch. It was freezing! Brooklyn and Zachary made popcorn for everyone to warm up when we got back to school. It was a blissful Friday.
