On Tuesday we went sledding at Chestnut Ridge, it was so much fun! The hill was huge. On our last run of the day we all went down at the same time!

On Wednesday we made latkes, they are like a potato pancake. Latkes are a Jewish food we made them because this week Hanukkah started.

Alice made a model of Antarctica using styrofoam and tape math trees!

 In math this week we solved holiday word problems, learned to count by 4s, and counted backwards. We did addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division!
