Mandala School Newsletter
Volume XVIII Issue XXX
May 21, 2026

centimeters millimeters
A Long Walk to Water readers field trip to a theatre writing essays digging holes

the first hot days warmed our souls

solving problems
building cars sawing fast and sanding hard

baby Leni's finally here brought joy to all far and near.

it always flies by another quick year
this one changed and changed how much can we bear?

but more changes will come so be happy and smile we've done so much in a short, little while.

some will stay and some will go, a range of feelings we've come to know the end is near,

just 4 more days until we go camping, a bit aways our fearless leader will then retire after one final bonfire

IMPORTANT:

- PINEWOOD DERBY is Tuesday 5/26 Please make sure cars that were taken home come to school!
- We are closed tomorrow 5/22 and Monday 5/25 for Memorial Day
- Camping countdown: 11 days
- If you did not receive your honors (email from Leah) please let Kelsey know ASAP!

We went to the play. It was super funny. I liked that corduroy was funny. The girl had to do different chores around the house, but she did a terrible job. She got the bear at the end he looked at me and I called called me Friend. he broke his button, but it was chalk. We sat in the first row corduroy was walking funny I sat and chairs that went bloop and when you got off, it popped up it was dark. There were people that pretended to be mannequins and then they came to life. We had fun at the theater and my mom came. By Alice, Aurora, Gabriel, Kyle, & Lochley

